

Onboarding that connects

Create consistently exceptional onboarding experiences that connect your new hires to the colleagues, programs, and information that matter most.

Are you ready to welcome your new hires with an onboarding experience that leaves them feeling connected, appreciated and ready to tackle the job? With 25%¹ of new hires leaving in the first 6 months, and a cost of 1-2x² an employee's annual salary to replace them, it's obvious that onboarding is one of the most critical programs in your business.

Connected Onboarding with Enboarder

Enboarder brings the power of real human connection into the hiring and onboarding process, extending that belonging across the entire employee journey.

Personalization at scale

Create and adapt employee journeys based on data and feedback to deliver a truly personalized experience. Hit the ground running with our library of pre-built journeys modeled after the best practices in the industry. Customize quickly and easily with our no-code interface and dozens of integrations.

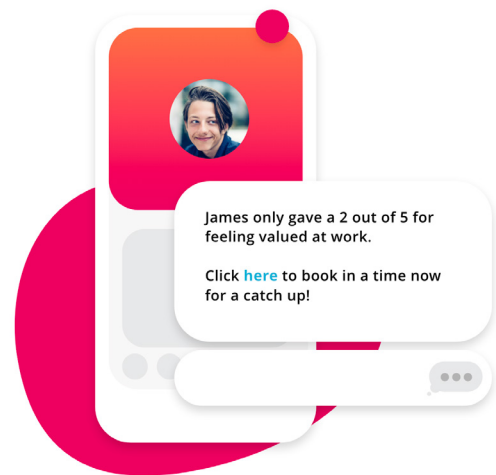

An amazing experience that sparks human connection

A great onboarding experience is so much more than a new coffee mug on day one. Enboarder turns your new hire experience into a series of meaningful, memorable and fun moments with welcome messages from the team, helpful and timely pre-boarding instructions, new equipment ready to go, and so much more.

A system that your managers will love

Managers have the largest influence on employee engagement scores³, so we designed a system that effortlessly provides managers with the prompts, guidance, and inspiration they need to wow their new hires every step of the way. With no additional spreadsheets to manage or logins to remember, your managers can spend less time on busy work and more time connecting with their new team members.

Take your experience to the next level with Connected Onboarding

Our Onboarding solution has been designed for today's most pressing HR challenge: human connections at work. With interactive, actionable nudges Enboarder drives behavior, sparks joy, and nurtures a culture of belonging.

Enboarder isn't just a software tool. We're a whole new way to do business.

“ Our company pillars are personalization, human touch, and education, and I think that’s what Enboarder helps us bring — that human element. We talk about our culture, about being a tribe, and being a collectiveness, and that’s what Enboarder helps us bring to life. ”

Sarah Beardsworth, HR Director at Dermatologica
